

The HMS Networks Group is the world's No1 choice for industrial communication and employs over 500 people across 13 countries.

HMS Technology Center Ravensburg GmbH is part of the Swedish HMS Networks Group and employs more than 80 people. Within the HMS Group we are responsible for the development of all products related to the IXXAT brand.

The IXXAT brand stands for products and solutions for data communication within machines and for automotive testing. Our technology focuses on CAN, Industrial Ethernet and Safety. In addition, customized products and system solutions are developed in Ravensburg.

To further strengthen our Project Management Team we are looking for a

Project Manager (m/w/d)

What we expect

- Management of interdisciplinary development projects (software/hardware) as well as customer specific solutions in the field of industrial communication
- Project responsibility from the idea to series production with regard to costs, timeframe, performance and quality
- Professional coordination and leading of project teams (2-10 project members)
- Close collaboration and coordination to both product management and product manufacturing
- Responsibility for change and failure management within the projects
- Contact person to customers/suppliers in technical details

What you bring

- Degree in Computer Science, Information Technology, Electronic Engineering or similar
- Minimum 2 years of experience as software or electronic developer
- Desirable: Experience in project management and knowledge in the field of industrial communication (Industrial Ethernet)
- Excellent communication skills
- Structured, reliable and target oriented way of working
- Good level of English and/or German
- A certification (e.g. IPMA) ideally completes your profile

What we offer

- Challenging technical projects for our customers across the globe
- Well-founded training phase and further qualification through IPMA certification
- Short decision-making processes, open communication and freedom to develop ideas and be creative
- Family-friendly and comfortable environment with flexible working hours, fruit & drinks, ergonomic and air-conditioned workplaces
- Extensive offering of benefits such as pension, share savings program, lifetime working time account and much more
- Working where others go on holiday – Lake Constance and its beautiful surroundings

For questions please contact Bettina Zaplo by phone +49 751 56146-205 – or visit our webpage www.hms-networks.com

Ready to get connected?

Then please send us your detailed application documents with certificates, your salary expectation and the earliest possible starting date.

Apply Now!

For more details visit www.hms-networks.com/work